

FASET PRESS RELEASE

30 March 2005

Fall Arrest Safety Equipment Training Building Industry Relationships

From 1 January 2005 FASET became affiliated to the National Access and Scaffolding Confederation (NASC). FASET member companies will now have the opportunity to be listed in the 2006 NASC Yearbook.

FASET has become an influential voice in an industry which needs representation to ensure the reliable performance of systems for worker safety. In just over five years FASET has created an identity which gatekeepers and authorities recognise. Identifying a FASET trained contractor offering a professional work at height service will make this task easier and therefore more effective.

FASET is a member of the Access Industry Forum which was established as a single voice for all trade associations active in the access industry.

Chairman Kevin Mouatt comments:

‘This move is a positive step towards forming a closer link between FASET and the NASC. It is an excellent move that will really benefit the membership. The new membership of the Access Industry Forum demonstrates how far FASET and the UK Access industry have progressed in building relationships.’

Notes to Editors

FASET is the trade association and training body for the safety net rigging and fall arrest industry.

The CSCS Safety Net Rigger card provides evidence that an operative has undergone extensive training and assessment in the proficiency of fall arrest safety equipment training and has achieved the required industry standard.

FASET has been growing in membership as companies have begun to recognise the benefits of being associated with the high standards represented by the association. All undergo a rigorous audit to ensure management systems are in place.

FASET Training Manuals have been updated to take account of recent CSCS affiliation and the FASET Assessed Route.
