AN INVALUABLE RESOURCE

The brand new FASET website went live earlier this year and is already proving to be an indispensable source of advice and information for anyone involved in work at height.

Highlights:

- 21 free technical bulletins;
- The FASET hierarchy of access methods;
- Top 10 do's and don'ts when using nets;
- FASET training and training centres;
- 5 reasons why you should only use a FASET member.

2016 GOOD PRACTICE GUIDE

After extensive consultation with members, users, other trade bodies and industry at large, FASET has published its much anticipated Good Practice Guide. The 12-page document is free to download at Click here

GETTING THE FACTS ABOUT FALLS

FASET has launched a landmark initiative designed to discover the true facts about falls into safety nets.

NEW BOARD MEMBER

Richard Brokenshire, operations manager at Poole-based SMD Ltd, specialists in the design, manufacture, supply and installation of metal decking, has joined the FASET Board. Richard worked in construction before joining SMD Ltd in 2013 and is now closely associated with the safety netting part of the business, especially on site. He is passionate about promoting the industry at large and the work and role of FASET in particular.

AIF CONFERENCE: IMPLEMENTING CHANGE AND INNOVATION IN WORK AT HEIGHT

As a founder member of the Access Industry Forum (AIF), FASET will be a major contributor to the AIF's first national conference on work at height on 13 October 2016 in Loughborough. This unique event will bring together speakers with a range and depth of expertise never before assembled in one place in the UK, and is set to inform height safety in an ambitious and innovative way.
